About Us

Ace Garage Doors was formed by three guys who met while working for another Garage door company in 1999. After working together in various roles within that company Glenn, Trevor and Leon thought 'We can do this and do it better. In late 2004 they hit the ground running when they formed Ace Garage Doors. After 16 years they are still going strong supplying and fitting garage doors and awnings throughout East Anglia and pushing slightly further afield into Parts of Lincolnshire and Northamptonshire too.

Ace Garage Doors UK have staff in our Norwich based offices with a combined experience of over 40 years in the trade.

We pride ourselves on the quality of our products, customer service and expert advice. As such your call will be answered typically by the owners of the business offering you a wealth of experience and knowledge to answer your questions.

Similarly, there will also be heavily involved with surveying your property, installing your doors and always oversee the production to ensure optimum quality at all stages from your initial call through to your professionally finished garage door installation. We know that it takes a long time to build a good reputation...we also know that it does not take a long time to ruin it.

Our products are built to last by us. Our manufacturing unit is based in Norwich and we only use the highest quality components from some of the largest manufacturers sourced worldwide.

We have total confidence in our products and we only take payment once your installation has been completed either by cash, cheque or direct transfer. No deposit required! All our Ace garage doors and roller shutters come with a 5 YEAR guarantee. Our guarantee covers all parts and labour for the doors and the electronic remote handsets have a 2 year guarantee. All of our products comply with the current CE legislation and machinery directive and full documentation will be supplied on completion of installation.

The Queen+

The Queen+ garage door has been designed with cost in mind but never compromising quality. You will be hard pushed to find a better quality cost effective package than the Queen+ on the market for a single size garage door.

Roller shutter garage doors are the most versatile and low maintenance systems on the market today. With each and every door being made to measure they are capable of being fixed in a variety of ways to suit your requirements.

The Ace Garage Doors 'Queen+' is made using high quality, 55mm aluminium skinned and foam insulated lathes to form the curtain or body of the door. Those lathes are powder coated in a choice of 10 colours and require no painting. The guide runner's that take the places of the old (and sometimes rotten) wooden posts are extruded aluminium profiles fitted directly to the brick. These guide runners are powder coated and contain brush strips to minimise drafts and debris in to the garage. At the base of the curtain, there is a colour coded extruded aluminium base rail that houses a rubber seal. This sits directly on the floor to minimise drafts and debris blowing in under the door. The whole system rolls up at a push of a button into an 8" (205mm) box. The fully encased top roll consists of cast aluminium powder coated head plates that are spanned by a strong steel barrel.

All for £899* *Subject to site survey

Control System

The PM1 Remote system has been around for a very long time. Also known as the 'Athena' its longevity makes this system almost bullet proof. The system comes with two remotes as standard and also has hard wired button on the side of the box which allows you to operate the garage door without the remotes from inside of the garage. The system comes with a hold to close function for safety.

The PM1 remote controls have open, close and stop buttons and also have an integrated sliding cover which slides up over the buttons reducing the chance of setting the door in operation while the remote is in your pocket or bag.

Optional Extra's

Safety edge system - £200

Extra remotes - £42

Automatic internal Light - £45
